

EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 17, 1858.

RAILROADS OF THE UNITED STATES.—It is a happy conjunction of the circumstances and influences that attend the march of progress and civilization, that railroads and locomotion by steam should have been invented, and hence have rapidly become an element of unexampled power, just at the time that our Republic is rising to the eminence of one of the greatest nations of the earth. According to the Railroad Record, "the United States has increased in wealth full a thousand millions of dollars by railroads!" We do not for a moment doubt the truth of this statement, and will add, that the augmented production of national resources will be more than doubly augmented in the same period for the time to come. Let it be remembered that the Union is annually gaining and settling new States and Territories. These will require railroads to bring the ever-cumulative treasures of agriculture to the great cities and ports of the East, whence they will be shipped to the chief nations of Europe. We are rejoiced to perceive also, that several of the States railroads have of late years paid fair and even good dividends. Thus, in Massachusetts and Connecticut, five to six per cent.; in New York, eight per cent.; in Ohio (so far as returns have been received), nine per cent., while the main arteries of Pennsylvania and New Jersey have also yielded reasonable profits. Look at the rapid multiplication of the iron highways. In 1844 there were but 4,311 miles in the entire country; but now there are 24,195 miles, with about 3,000 miles in addition that are yet unfinished. So that, in thirteen years, twenty thousand miles have been built! Success, therefore, to the construction of railroads! For they promise not only to unite us by iron links, as one family, but also to promote agriculture, commerce, manufactures, population, and the rapid circulation—combined with an extensive and general diffusion of that vital principle of industry and enterprise—money.

FRENCH CHIT-CHAT.—The police of Paris, and indeed of all France, are charged with the most restrictive orders. The Prefect, who was severely reprimanded by the Emperor for his neglect in permitting to remain in France a band of conspirators, known to be there for weeks before they made their attempt, has asked for a special appropriation of $200,000 to enable him to augment in France and abroad the secret police. He throws the blame on his limited means, and the Emperor, forced to adopt every measure which may offer any additional hope of security, accords the demand of the Prefect. But a secret police! This sounds strangely in the ears of the people of a free country. As for the Cantillon story, a contradiction has been given by Lord Palmerston to the statement that the legacy left by the first Napoleon to Cantillon, for his attempt to assassinate the Duke of Wellington, has been paid. The allegation is that only a small portion was originally paid by the executors, in the time of Charles the Tenth, and subsequently it was agreed that no further payments should take place, as it was to be inferred such a legacy could only have been made in a moment of temporary insanity from illness. The fact remains, however, that in the Monitor, about four years ago, it was said the amount had been paid with interest. At least, so says the Paris correspondent of the New York Commercial.

ARIZONA AS A COTTON REGION.—Late investigations prove that the Territory of Arizona, rich as it is in resources, promises more from the adaptation of its soil and climate to the production of cotton than from all other elements of wealth. Gen. Gadsden, in a letter to Lieut. Maury, republished in the States, enclosing a sample of cotton produced in that region, says:

You are aware, perhaps, that the black seed cotton—hybrids, of finer qualities, which sea or salt air and superior cultivation have produced in the Carolinas, Georgia islands, and now extending to Florida—is a native of the Gila, a river of Arizona. It is from this cotton that the finest Mexican serapes are manufactured. I was fortunate enough to obtain a handful of the seed from a friend at Fort Yuma, and raised seed enough from it to restore it purely in this State. As these lower qualities of long cottons are getting in demand, I send enclosed a sample of the cotton as raised near this city, as it might be of interest to you and the friends of that newly-acquired district, seeking to take a place in the cotton field as well as silver products of that mineral region.

The sample of cotton is said to be the same in character as that described by Gray and others as raised by the Pimos Indians, and resembles the Sea Island in its fine silky texture and long staple.

ABOUT INDIA.—A Mr. Leonard Wray, formerly in the service of the East India Company, has been lecturing in New York. He stated that large fortunes were frequently made by the planters of indigo, who are a peculiarly jovial, kindhearted, and hospitable set of people. In the manufacture of indigo, the Europeans excel the natives. The reverse is true as regards sugar, which is more profitably manufactured from the wild fig tree than from the sugar-cane.

The cotton-producing regions are four or five times as extensive as that of the United States, and India supplies all the Asiatic States with this staple, but the distance is unfavorable for exportation to Europe. The tea-growing regions are very large, and the tea is superior to that grown in China. The European planters in India, as friends and protectors, usually exercise an influence over the native population. They knew of the intended meeting of the Sepoys before it broke out, but the East India Government would not heed the warnings given, deeming such an occurrence impossible.

John Farbon, the War Office Messenger, has been fully committed for the stealing of the Earl of Suffolk's pictures. The only interesting point at his examination before the Whitehall magistrate was the evidence of the pawnbroker, Mr. Luff, showing how the best judges differ. When the picture was left with him, a friend told him not to lose it for a matter of £10; Luff managed, however, to get it for £6. He then took it to Mr. J. Stevens, of Egleston Square, who pronounced it to be what it was, a genuine Leonardo da Vinci. Sir Charles Eastlake, on the contrary, pronounced it to be painted by Pedrini. Mr. Farrar, of Bond street, after due examination, pronounced it to be by Andrea Solari. "I made the painting as public as I possibly could," said the dealer, "for the sake of sale, and have been asking for the last fortnight £1,000 for it."

SUGAR.—A letter from Barbadoes, dated Feb. 12, states that sugar making has become general throughout this island, and the article is coming to market in large quantities. The crop is the largest ever made on the island, yielding 60,000 hhds.

MUSARD IN NEW YORK.—The Paris Courier France (Italian, Feb. 25), says that Musard will depart on the 1st of March for the United States, having been engaged by Ullman at a salary of 40,000 francs and four half benefits (we presume for one year). The concert, says the Courier, will alternate with the representation of the opera, and will also be given with the singers at the opera—Thalberg, Vieuxtemps, &c. Among other artists of the Concerts de Paris who will accompany Musard are Demerson, flutist, and Hubans, hautboy—the best in Europe. They are engaged for New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and Baltimore.

ITEMS.

On the 29th of January, two Americans in Constantinople fitted up a sleigh and drove around the city, an exploit never before accomplished in that place. They passed up and down by the Sultan's palace. The Turks were delighted.

A Kansas paper states that it is the intention of a gentleman in Virginia to carry to Topeka early in the coming spring 200,000 grape roots, embracing the most productive and hardy varieties cultivated in this country.

Life Insurance.—The Bridgeport (Conn.) Advertiser learns that over $28,000 have been paid in that city within a few months, to heirs and executors of persons who had obtained insurance on their lives.

A Drove.—A drover arrived in Albany, New York, last Monday, with 12,000 head of cattle, obtained in Indiana and Illinois. This is the largest lot of cattle ever brought to Albany by one man.

It is now said that Thomas Allsup, suspected of complicity in the conspiracy to take the life of Louis Napoleon, has sailed for California.

A Snow Storm South.—The city of Augusta, Ga., was visited with a lively snow storm on the evening of the 7th.

Squibs "wants to know" if doctors, by looking at the tongue of a wagon, can tell what ails it.

A punster says: "My name is Somerset. I am a miserable bachelor. I cannot marry; for how could I hope to prevail on any young lady, possessed of the slightest notions of delicacy, to turn a Somerset?"

Tu for Tu.—A Mr. Miller, who is a school teacher in Canandaigua, having corrected a boy in school, was publicly horse-whipped by the father of the youth, a Mr. Garlinghouse, who also arrested the teacher for assaulting the boy. A jury acquitted the teacher, and arrived at the conclusion that the boy deserved all that he received. The teacher may now recover damages if he chooses.

Buffalo Commercial.

The Norfolk Herald says: "We are informed that $65,000 in Treasury notes of $500 and $1,000, sent on from Washington to pay off the employees of government in the Navy Yard here, were returned yesterday, in consequence of the amount being so large that the purser could make no use of them."

The Boy State Mills.—We have lately seen in many of the papers a report to the effect that the Boy State Mills were resuming operations, having hired 600 operatives, while more would be added to the number. The Lawrence American denies its correctness, and says that the mills are merely using up what remnants of stock are left on hand, preparatory to winding up entirely.

Warned to Leave Town.—A correspondent informs us that the late John Avery Parker, an enterprising and successful merchant of New Bedford, who died worth $1,300,000, was at one time in his life warned to leave Westport, Mass., under the old law or custom as to warning strangers, lest he should become a public charge. If this act of far-reaching caution induced Mr. Parker to locate himself in New Bedford, the latter city has been under deep obligations to the selectmen of Westport for this at that time common but absurd act.

Boston Journal.

The Methodist Church Case.—This suit, it will be remembered, was decided by his Honor Matthew Edmonston, at the last term of the Circuit Court held for the county of Wood. The decision of the Judge was favorable to that party usually denominated the Northern branch of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The suit not only involved a considerable amount of valuable real estate situated in the town of Parkersburg, but also important legal questions, which it was considered, had never been fully adjudicated by the higher courts of Virginia. Application was made to the Court of Appeals, now in session at Richmond, for a writ of supersedeas, with a view to its final arbitration by that learned tribunal. The court refused to grant the supersedeas, or in other words, we presume, ratified the decision of Judge Edmonston.

In the latter part of 1856, a young man named Page Emie, a mail carrier, in Caroline county, was arrested upon a charge of robbing the mail. For the want of sufficient evidence at the time, the grand jury failed to find a true bill against him. A short time before Christmas last, articles stolen from the mail were found in his room, and were identified by those who saw them as articles stolen from the mail. An officer was notified of the facts. The young man, finding himself in rather a tight place, fled to the western part of Missouri. The officer found out his stopping place. He gave the postmaster in Missouri, near the place or neighborhood where young Emie was staying, the facts in regard to the matter. The postmaster had him questioned, and was of the opinion that he was not the same man. Young Emie, however, became alarmed, and made way with his life by taking poison.

Richmond South.

Peach Prospects.—The result of extensive examinations by several gentlemen who are interested in the production of this delicious fruit, in the regions near this lake in Ohio, is an opinion that the buds are injured beyond remedy. This is the common report every winter, but our connections by rail and otherwise unite us to so vast an extent of country that we can scarcely be disappointed in a fair supply of peaches.

PARIS, Feb. 27.
The French Government has given official notice that hereafter no person can enter or leave the French territory without a passport regularly issued by the French authorities; and in the case of those coming in, the visa must be made beyond the French frontier.

The lines of steamers from Havre to New York, and from St. Nazaire, to Cuba, Aspinwall, Guadalupe, Mexico, and Cayenne have been let to the Company V. Marzon for twenty years, at 9,300 francs a year. They will not be ready to operate before the end of three years, so much time is spent in France in the details of organization.

A letter appears in the Constitutional of yesterday from Mr. Henry Wyckoff, defending Mr. Buchanan from the charges made against him by Gen. Walker in his Mobile speech. Mr. Wyckoff denies that the President ever promised the filibuster his sympathy or assistance in the conquest of Nicaragua.

Mr. Rarey, the American horse-tamer, who made such a sensation in England, is repeating his experiments here in the Emperor's stable, to the astonishment of everybody. The Emperor has appointed a committee of gentlemen to report to him on the subject, and it is anticipated that Mr. Rarey will be handsomely rewarded by his Majesty for the important discovery.

On Monday evening last the American Minister gave a grand ball at the rooms of the Legation in honor of Washington's birthday. The attendance was very numerous and brilliant, and embraced all the diplomatic corps, their attaches and families, nearly all the Americans in Paris, and many of the political, financial, and literary notabilities of the city. The affair was luxuriously got up, and did honor to the Minister and the occasion.

The American bankers, John Monroe & Co., of this city, have resumed payment, and the loss of the house by the crisis did not consume even the profits of the last year, it is safe to say that all the confidence which was formerly extended to this house will return to it.

AMERICAN.

The President has received an autograph letter from Prince Albert, accompanied with a medal containing the likenesses of the Princess Royal and Frederick William. The letter is a friendly one, and contains sentiments of high regard.

NEARLY A HORSE TOO MUCH.—Stanley Smith, editor of the Auburn American, gives the following amusing anecdote of his chase by and escape from a savage bull, during a recent visit to a farm in the neighborhood of Auburn, to witness a trial of mowers:

That bull was one of them. "He was monarch" of all he could eat, chase, or gore. Being deeply interested in the apple crop, we wandered out of the field in which the mowing was going on into friend Shotwell's orchard. Fat and handsome blood cows were lying about chewing their cud, and utterly indifferent as to what was going on. We wandered on from tree to tree in the large orchard; and, while critically examining some very fine fruit, were suddenly and rather unpleasantly startled from our train of thought by the bellowing of Mr. Taurus, whose majesty had been reclining, and of whose august presence we were unaware. He elevated his tail, made the earth fly with his "awful paws," and having thus manifested his hostility, and given tone, if not color, to his idea that we were an interloper, made a plunge toward us. A moment's view of our antagonist was just enough. His eyes flashed fire; he roared like a "hull of Bashan." We did not at all fancy the style of his horns; they were as straight as needles and about as sharp. He exhibited unmistakable desires to employ them upon us.

Knowing that it was expected of us to report the contest trial going on in another field, we remembered the prior and pressing interests of our friends, and set up a smart run. So did Mr. Bull. We scampered; he scampered; he made "better time" than we could "bottom out;" he gained on us rapidly; we could almost feel his hot breath on the back of our neck; it was week or nothing; rail fence twenty rods off; bull within five rods; give up for "goners;" no such thing; friendly apple tree with low branches; clutched two of them, and lifted our precious hides into the tree; Taurus arrived just as we cleared the ground.

Our enemy pawed around the tree, bellowed after the manner of "Boners," the son of "Thunder," glared at us, and finally walked off about the distance of three trees. Thinking all was right, we slid down vertically, and "put" for the crazy old rail fence. The distance from tree to bull, and from tree to fence, was just about an even thing. But our assailant saw the movement, and at once again the chase was a hot one; but this time we anticipated the "horned critter," and, scaling the fence, landed in a field of rye about the same moment our pursuer's horns struck the top rails of the fence, and set them flying. Separated by the fence, we read the roundel a lecture that we hope he will remember to his last moments.

THE PETERS AND THEIR NEGRESS LUCRETIA.—Several weeks ago, much indignation was elicited by disclosures made in evidence in the criminal court of atrocious cruelty on the part of Louis Peters and his wife toward their negress Lucretia. After a strenuous defence they were found guilty of having violated the statute against such atrocities, and punishment was assessed at a fine of $1,000 and twelve months' imprisonment. Stay of execution was obtained, and further legal proceedings in the case have since been and are still tardily progressing.

Soon after the above verdict, the negress, who should have been removed from those upon whom she had thus brought trouble, was found wandering nearly naked in the cold on the levees. She said that she had been again beaten and been compelled to flee from her master and mistress. She was returned to them, and several gentlemen then visited her, examined her person, observed the arrangements made for her convenience, and reported that her story of maltreatment, if not wholly false, was greatly exaggerated.

Yesterday, as Officer Peters was passing the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peters, on Sixth street, near Morgan, he heard loud screams, and instantly the negress forced her way over the fence and caught her as she fell. Her head was covered with blood, and she was evidently much hurt. In default of other quarters the officer took her to the calaboose. The health officer was called, and on shaving the crown of her head, two deep cuts were disclosed, penetrating to the skull bone. One was two inches and the other an inch in length. Unfortunately, no evidence save her own statement is obtainable in the case. She states that Mrs. Peters and the brother of that lady attacked and beat her, and that the lady at length struck her over the head with a loose table leg, forcing her to flee for her life.

We trust the parties thus implicated may free themselves from all suspicion of having perpetrated an atrocity so dastardly, infamous, and infernal as the wanton infliction of these frightful wounds. It is to be hoped that a different aspect than that which the case now wears will shortly appear, and that no such monstrous savagism exists within the pale of Christendom, as would inflict upon even a helpless brute the injuries under which this woman is now suffering.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

On Saturday afternoon, the Mayor's squadron made a descent on the gambling place over Gamin's saloon, No. 214 Broadway, and arrested fifteen persons, whom they found betting against faro. They were all taken to the Second Precinct Station-House, where Judge Welsh held the proprietors of the place to bail in $1,000 each, and let the rest off with a reprimand. Brotherhood, the Union Bank defaulter, is said to have been a frequent visitor at this place, and to have lost here, in "hucking against faro," considerable money.

The Mayor's police have got on the track of a swindling lottery agency, which has been receiving from thirty to forty letters a day from all sections of the country, inclosing various sums of money for lottery tickets. Two batches of these letters have been taken from the post-office and opened by the Mayor. Those containing money were forwarded to the Post Office Department to be returned to the owners. Three arrests have been made, and it is expected that more will be made to-day.

A gang of drunken rowdies got into an altercation Tuesday evening, in a low drinking saloon in Canal street, near West Broadway. As the bar-keeper fired a revolver at one of them in the street, the ball accidentally hit ex-Alderman Isaac H. Smith, of Brooklyn, in the right arm, shattering the bone so completely that it is feared amputation will be necessary. The rowdies—some Scotch Boys of the Eighth Ward—escaped. Mark Johnson, the bar-keeper, and John Horton, the proprietor, were arrested. The ex-Alderman, as he was shot, was on his way to church, in company with his wife.

THE LEVIATHAN.—It is estimated that the total cost of completing her fittings, putting on board stores, &c., and making the Leviathan in all respects ready for sea, will not exceed £120,000, and that the time required will not extend beyond the month of July. It has been proved that eight anchors are not sufficient to hold her at moorings during only a half gale, and she has been supplied with ten, five at the stem and five at the stern. The masts are being made at Millwall six in all, three square-rigged, and three rigged with fore and aft sails. They will all be composed of plates of wrought iron, an inch thick, and riveted together in the same manner as the sides of the ship, or a steam boiler of the strongest description. They will vary from 180 to 170 feet from the keel to the truck; each will be 3 feet 4 inches in diameter at the deck, the weight varying from 30 to 40 tons, exclusive of yards or rigging. In case of becoming necessary to cut away the masts an apparatus working by means of a powerful screw will be used to compress the two sides together in such a manner as to completely crush them in, and let them fall over the sides immediately. All the main and topmast yards of the square-rigged masts will also be of iron plates. The main yard will be 130 feet long, and lighter than if made of wood. As there is no dock large enough at the entrance to take in the Leviathan, when she needs cleaning, she will have to be "griddoned;" that is, run aground on rows of piles along the Mersey's side for the purpose, and the tide, of course, will leave her dry at each low water.
